

Tanya Gressley's Lab Group, Spring 2009

Left to right on the tractor: Laura Nemec, Sarah Mainardi
Left to right on the ground: Nina Pusateri, Danielle Rossi, Sarah Nebzydoski, Tanya Gressley, Amanda Catti, Brittany Hengst, Kerrie Davidson (not pictured: Rachael Hougentogler)

Graduate Students

- Sarah Nebzydoski (Fall 2007 – Summer 2009; M.S. student): Researching clock gene expression patterns in bovine neutrophils.
- Laura Nemec (Fall 2007 – Present; M.S. student): Researching organic trace mineral absorption and utilization in cows and steers.

Undergraduate Student Scholars

- Amanda Catti (Spring 2009; ANFS 468)
- Kerrie Davison (Fall 2008 – present; SES and Senior Thesis): Researching the effects of dexamethasone on peripheral blood mononuclear cells
- Brittany Hengst (Summer 2008 – present; SES and Senior Thesis): Researching the impact of an accelerated milk replacer feeding program on measures of calf immune function
- Sarah Mainardi (Summer 2008 – Spring 2009; SES and Senior Thesis): Evaluating the effectiveness of abomasal oligofructose infusion to model post-ruminal acidosis

Undergraduate Student Hourly Workers

- Rachael Hougentogler (Fall 2008 – present)
- Nina Pusateri (Fall 2007 – present)
- Danielle Rossi (Fall 2008 – present)