*Today's Youth,
 Tomorrow's Future*

Introduce A Kid to Something WILD

At the 2007 GreenWing Event

Join us for an exciting day full of conservation, public safety and education. This event focuses on the values of migratory waterfowl and the enjoyment associated with outdoor sports. Some of the many activities include: shooting sports, casting for kids, duck banding, waterfowl calling, decoy carving, and retriever dog demonstrations.

This event is free to youth under the age of 16. Participants will receive a free one-year GreenWing membership, t-shirt, lunch and much more.

Ducks Unlimited's mission since they started in 1937 has been to conserve, restore and manage wetlands and associated habitat for North America's waterfowl. They also benefit other wildlife and people too. Ducks Unlimited recognizes the vital role that hunters and anglers play in the conservation of migratory waterfowl. Through their fundraising efforts, they have contributed over $1,772,000,000 to pay for land acquisition, habitat improvement, and other wildlife programs. Educational programs like GreenWings also benefit from the funds generated.

The Delaware GreenWings program began in 1995 and has grown to become one of the largest conservation field days in the world.

"Educating today's youth on habitat conservation so generations to come can enjoy Delaware's natural resources in the future".
