Kent County 4-H Holds Club Officer Training Program

Recently the Kent County 4-H program conducted an officer training workshop for its 4-H club officers. The workshop was held at the University of Delaware Paradee Center in Dover. Conducting the training program were Doug Crouse, Kent County 4-H Extension Agent, volunteer 4-H leaders Carole Fleming, Karen Crouse and Linda Sullivan and 4-H teen leader Sara Busker.

The session included such topics as the roles of the various club offices, preparing an agenda, volunteer leader involvement, and using committees. Following a general session the officers broke up into their appropriate group of President/Vice-president, Secretary/Reporter, or Treasurer to go into more depth about the role and responsibility of each club office.

Learning how to properly conduct a business meeting is one way the 4-H program can help our young people become better leaders. With the help of workshops such as this and their local volunteer adult leader, these young people can become better citizens in the future. If you would like to become part of the youth education program as a member or adult volunteer, call the Kent County 4-H Office at 730-4000. The 4-H program is open to all persons regardless of race, color, sex, handicap, age or national origin.
